—The amount of interest taken here in the election in the Second District is great, and Kitchen divides the honors with Davis in this respect.

—The Baptist State Convention met yesterday at Charlotte. This city is ably represented by Dr. T. H. Pritchard and several lay delegates.

—There was no cessation of inquiries yesterday as to who were the successful candidates, but the mistiness of the returns prevented, as usual, an accurate knowledge of the vote in many counties near at hand until a late hour.

—County Commissioners.

The Board of Commissioners of this county was in regular monthly session yesterday. A good deal of business was transacted. Several road overseers were appointed, and a number of persons relieved from payment of poll tax, on account of physical disabilities. The appointment of E. H. Adams, as Constable in Fayette Branch, was also made. The office of the County Clerk was vacated.

The original returns are filed with the Clerk of Superior Court, and are recorded in the offices of that officer and the Register of Deeds. The State officers and a selected Democrat and Republican Senator, forming the Board of State Canvassers, meet and canvass the returns sent the Secretary of State, and upon their certificate the Governor issues commissions to the officers elected. This done away with the old mode of the meeting of sheriffs.

Louise Pomeroy.

Monday evening next this distinguished actress will appear here for the first time—it may be justly regarded the dramatic event of the season.

Of Miss Pomeroy's appearance in Reading, Pa., the Times says:

Since Neilson's appearance here, no actress has so completely captivated an audience as Louise Pomeroy. This is attributable to two things, her beauty and dramatic genius. To a little form of elegant proportions she adds infinite grace of movement, mingled with a voluptuous abandon and coquette. Her voice is melodious itself and she is a consummate actress. The "Adrian" is a genuine American play in three acts, pure in sentiment and one of the best ever witnessed in this city.

In the first act and in the second up to the immediate closing scene, she was the gay, irresistible society queen, charming, vivacious and enthusiastic. But at the close of the second act she glided naturally into a very temper of passion. The closing scene, in intensity of feeling, absorbing interest, vivid portraiture and dramatic effectiveness is not surpassed in any play of the old or modern school. In the last act she delineated with startling fidelity the weird phases of idiocy, and her appearance created an involuntary shudder. Mr. W. H. Leake is one of the foremost Shakespearean readers. His country manner, commanding presence and fine elocution were the salient features of his impersonation of "Ralph Chalmers."

Miss Estelle Mortimer played Kitty in a most charming manner, and it was a regret of many that she did not have a better opportunity for the display of her talent.

Miss Mortimer is a most finished actress—her Celia, in "As You Like It," is pronounced a gem of art.

The remainder of the company are excellent. The Edwards Dramatic Company supports Miss Pomeroy.

—The Baptists in Rome.

A Baptist chapel was dedicated in Rome last Sunday. The pastor, Dr. Geo. B. Taylor, is a North Carolinian.

Not a few will be pleased to read among your items of religious news that by chapel recently purchased by Dr. George B. Taylor has been paid for, altered to suit its new uses, and is today occupied by a meeting which corresponds somewhat with our Baptist General Association. The situation is central, fronting on one of the main thoroughfares of the "Eternal City."

The audience-room is fully arranged and furnished for preaching and other services. The cost, including alterations and repairs, has been this far $25,000. Some $5,000 are needed to fit up the upper parts of the building and a depository printing-office adjoining.

At last accounts Dr. Taylor expected to have some dedication services and a public conference with all his co-laborers in Italy to-day and to-morrow (the 2d and 3d of November). His many personal friends and Christian brethren will be glad to know that he feels greatly encouraged in his work, and is enjoying now better health than for some time past.

—Horatio Seymour on Government.

Baltimore Sun.
Hon. Horatio Seymour has, in the November number of the North American Review, a paper on American Government, moved thereunto perhaps by a liberal leader in England, whose "Kin Beyond Sea" has excited the British circles because of its high estimate of America's future. The ex-Governor very properly hinges good government upon the wisdom of the inhabitants of the United States, and thence radiates towards the circumference of our general government, which, he says, "is remarkable for being the reverse of every other government, and, instead of being a government of authority, it receives the remnant of power after all that concerns town, county and State jurisdictions has been distributed, under which system our country has attained its power, prosperity and magnificent proportions." Mr. Seymour ends his paper with a nicely phrased appeal against "neglecting individual duties," and observes that "the strength of Britain is in no small degree owing to the fact that the peers of the realm meet in many ways the rough duties of political struggles."

—The Eastern Situation.

The indications continue very strong that the military party in India is determined to force hostilities on the Amer. A fortnight ago Shere Ali's "unsatisfactory" answer was received in British India, and was known immediately in England. On Thursday last the British Cabinet decided, after a long session, to give the Amer. another. This decision was telegraphed to India, and on Saturday the Afghan commander in the Khyber Pass was handed an ultimatum, to which he is expected to reply by the 20th instant, on pain of a British invasion. This conduct singularly coincides with Lord Lytton's disconcerting message to the Amer., and the report of a pretended insult which was circulated with the approval of the Anglo-Indian Government. The criminality of the whole affair is rendered stronger by the indifference with which the Baconsfield Government treats the argument put forward by Lord Laurence, who, writing from an experience of more than twenty years in India, declares that the conquest of Afghanistan would increase the insecurity of British India, and entail heavy burdens on the public treasury.

It is very difficult for a merchant to make a trip to New York, buy goods cheap, and return immediately. For this reason Law's China and Silverware establishment (Raleigh and Charlotte, N. C.) has a buyer constantly on hand in New York picking up crockery, glassware, or anything in their line cheaper than regular prices. Greater inducements are offered now in sterling silver plate than ever before.
